Structure, governance and management

Description of the charity's trusts

Type of governing document (eg. trust deed, constitution)	The Rules of the Society, adopted on 24 May 1981 and amended from time to time by the Annual Conference, most recently on 26 April 2009
How the charity is constituted (eg. trust, association, company)	Association
Trustee selection methods (eg. appointed by, elected by)	Elected by the Annual Conference, officers annually, others for a 3-year term. Musical Advisers (elected to that position by Annual Conference) serve in rotation, one joining and one leaving each year.

Additional governance issues (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant, about: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees. • The charity's organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works. • Relationship with any related parties. • Trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them. 	Trustees are elected in a free election by the Annual Conference after candidates have declared that they are not disqualified from serving as charity trustees. Those elected are sent written information about the roles and responsibilities of trustees. The trustees form the central committee, which meets three times a year. Sub-committees have delegated responsibility for the SRP Walter Bergmann Fund and the National Youth Recorder Orchestras. Other key activities, such as training and the solo recorder competition, are managed by individual trustees. 53 local branches throughout the United Kingdom, Ireland and the Isle of Man organise meetings for group playing and other activities such as occasional organisation of an annual recorder festival. Most members belong to local branches and others to the Country & Overseas Branch. The mainstream activities of the Society carry only a slight risk of major unexpected expense, adequately covered by the reserves and Public Liability Insurance. A disaster befalling the National Youth Recorder Orchestras could be costly. The Society has Public and Employers' Liability Insurance, as well as Material Damage Insurance and Trustee Indemnity Insurance in place.

Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document	The education of the public in the study, practice, and appreciation of the art of music and the allied arts and in particular ... the promotion of the education of the public in the study, practice and appreciation of the recorder and its repertoire.

Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects

Branches and affiliated orchestras provide group playing under the direction of local and visiting conductors, also at National Festivals. Training in conducting and other skills is provided through workshops. Young players obtain high-level orchestral experience in the National Youth Recorder Orchestras, can enter the Solo Recorder competition and in cases of need can apply for grants from the SRP Walter Bergmann Fund. Other grants are made from the Arthur Ingram Fund.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- Policy on grantmaking
- Policy programme related investment
- Contribution made by Volunteers

Grants from the SRP Walter Bergmann Fund are made, in cases of need, to recorder players under the age of 30. Other ad-hoc grants are made from the Arthur Ingram Fund.

Almost all activities are undertaken by volunteers. The Administrator of the National Youth Recorder Orchestras receives an honorarium from the Arthur Ingram Fund. Professional musicians in some cases charge per-session fees. All other work is voluntary.

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

The Society continued to promote the recorder as a serious instrument, to facilitate the raising of standards, and provide opportunities for playing to all who join, through group playing in branch meetings and at the National Recorder Festival in Guisborough, Teesside and the Scottish Recorder Festival in Aberdeen, workshops in conducting and other skills throughout the country, affiliation of 13 Recorder Orchestras throughout Britain, joint promotion with Moeck UK of the concert by the winner of the 2007 International Solo Recorder Competition at the Greenwich Early Music Festival and the première of the commissioned recorder sextet "A Family Likeness" by Gavin Bryars, now published by Schott Music.

The National Youth Recorder Orchestras (NYRO), managed by a sub-committee, were in their eighth year. Continuing its rotation around the UK, NYRO held its Easter course in Rugby School, Warwickshire and its summer course in July 2008 at Oundle School, Peterborough followed by a concert in the West Road Concert Hall, Cambridge. There were also one-day NYRO playing days in Birmingham and London.

The International Solo Recorder Competition, promoted jointly with Moeck UK, was held at the Early Music Festival in Greenwich resulting in a win for the British finalist, Christopher Orton.

The Arthur Ingram Fund funds the NYRO administrator's honorarium also workshops and made occasional grants to other projects. The SRP Walter Bergmann Fund, administered by a sub-committee, gave grants to further the studies of young players in financial need. Many members contributed to the fund-raising in various ways. Some grants were given to needy young players in NYRO.

Branches undertook activities in the wider community. Examples included: playing in public places like shopping centres; workshops in primary schools; performances in residential and nursing homes; participation in local music festivals; loan of instruments and music to school and adult education groups.

The Recorder Magazine, published by Peacock Press with some pages edited by the Society's editor, was circulated to all members.

The sharing of music is facilitated by a joint catalogue of music held by branches online at www.srp.org.uk.

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The main fund maintains a reserve approximately equal to the annual turnover. The SRP Walter Bergmann Fund reserve provides investment income for grant-giving. The Arthur Ingram Fund is being used for activities in support of charitable objectives. The National Youth Recorder Orchestras have a reserve capable of meeting the costs of a cancellation.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

The account of the National Youth Recorder Orchestras had a deficit for the second year in succession, covered by surpluses in previous years. Steps are being taken to restore a balance.

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- The charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising).
- How expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity.
- Investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

The principal source of funds is the member's subscription to the central fund plus a subscription levied by each local branch to fund its own activities.

The SRP Walter Bergmann Fund is supported by fundraising.

The Arthur Ingram Fund was founded by a legacy and is supplemented by other allocations.

The National Youth Recorder Orchestras, apart from the administrator's honorarium, are now funded mainly by charges to the participants, some of whom obtain charitable grants from the SRP Walter Bergmann Fund or elsewhere. Some additional funds are donated by Friends, Patrons etc. More fundraising ideas are being investigated.

Other optional information

The Society is registered with the Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator (OSCR) as a cross-border charity (number SC038422). Copies of this Annual Return and the accompanying accounts are being submitted to OSCR together with some extra information specific to Scotland.

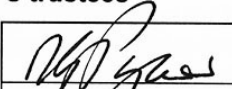

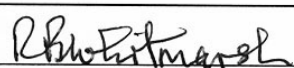

The Society also has Gift Aid status with Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs.

The trustees have complied with the duty in section 4 of the Charities Act 2006 to have due regard to public benefit guidance published by the Charity Commission.

Declaration

The trustees declare that they have approved the trustees' report above.
