

Moseley Old Hall

Address: Moseley Old Hall Lane, Fordhouses, Wolverhampton, Staffordshire WV10 7HY Tel: 01902 782808

About 4 miles north of the city is this Elizabethan farmhouse – now a National Trust property. King Charles 1st is said to have hidden here after the battle of Worcester in 1651 during the English Civil War. The house is open at weekends and limited days during the week. During the winter the house is open on Sundays only.

Wightwick Manor

Address: Wightwick Bank, Wolverhampton West Midlands WV6 8EE Tel: 01902 761400

Wightwick Manor is a Victorian manor house with Morris interiors and colourful gardens. It is one of only a few surviving examples of a house built and furnished under the influence of the Arts and Crafts movement. It is now a National Trust property.
Opening times: House 12.00 - 17.00
Gardens/Shop/Tea room 11.00 – 17.00

Bantock House Museum and Park

Address: Finchfield Road, Wolverhampton WV3 9LQ Tel: 01902 552195

Bantock House Museum and Park, is a museum of Edwardian life and local history, with 48 acres (190,000 m²) of surrounding parkland.

It was built in the 1730's and improved during occupancy by Thomas Herrick about the beginning of the 19th century when it was renamed Merridale House.^[1] Around 1864, it was bought by Thomas Bantock, a canal and railway agent and passed on to his son Albert Baldwin Bantock, who was twice Mayor of Wolverhampton and also High Sherriff of Staffordshire. On his death, without children, in 1938, he bequeathed the house and park to Wolverhampton Corporation. The house was renamed in his honour in 1940. It is a Grade II listed building, which is now run by Wolverhampton City Arts and Museums service.

Bratch Locks

About 6 miles west of the city in the village of Wombourne are the Bratch Locks. An impressive set of three locks on the Staffordshire and Worcestershire Canal complete with toll house that was opened in 1772. It's a popular spot with walkers, fishermen and families at weekends.

The Grand Theatre Wolverhampton

Address: Lichfield Street, Wolverhampton WV1 1DE Tel: 01902 429212

The theatre, commonly known as 'The Grand', was designed in 1894 by architect Charles FJ. Phipps. It is a Grade II Listed Building with a seating capacity of 1200. It is a much loved and well supported theatre.

Bilston Craft Gallery

Address: Mount Pleasant, Bilston, West Midlands WV14 7LU Tel: 01902 552507

This is the largest craft venue in the West Midlands

Wolverhampton Art Gallery

Address: Lichfield Street, Wolverhampton, West Midlands WV1 1DU 01902 552055

The gallery displays art covering the last 300 years alongside regularly changing exhibitions of contemporary art.

David Austin Roses

Bowling Green Lane, Albrighton, Wolverhampton, West Midlands WV7 3HB 01902 376334

A large rose garden which many consider to be one of the most beautiful in the world. Over 700 different varieties of roses are planted in the garden which now covers around 2 acres (0.8 HA). The garden is divided into a number of smaller areas, each with its own style. The overall concept is to enclose the exuberant and rather informal growth of the roses within neatly clipped evergreen hedges. The gardens are open to the public 7 days a week, 9am to 5pm and entry is free.

Royal Air Force Museum

Royal Air Force Museum Cosford, Shifnal, Shropshire TF11 8UP Tel: 01902 376200

The Royal Air Force Museum Cosford is located in Shropshire and offers a fun, entertaining day out for all the entire family. Situated next to an active airfield, this is the only place in the Midlands where you can get close to so many breathtaking aircraft for free.