Travel directions to St Thomas' Episcopal Church, 75-79 Glasgow Road, Edinburgh EH12 8LJ.

Bus

Take Lothian bus 31 or First buses 20, 21, 22 or 38 from Princes Street, Haymarket or Corstorphine Road travelling west. For the Lothian bus it is necessary to tender the exact fare as no change is given (single £1.50, child 70p, day ticket £3.50, £2.00 child). Free to holders of Scottish concession cards. After passing Drumbrae roundabout (MacDonalds and PC World are obvious here), alight at the third stop in Glasgow Road outside St Thomas' Church. The Lothian service 31 is every 10 minutes. The journey time is about 15 minutes. If you take the Airlink 100 service, tell the driver that you will alight at Maybury (600 metres beyond the church) and not at the airport.

Train

From South Gyle station to the church is a 15 minute walk across Gyle Public Park (see map). Trains between Fife, Queensferry and Edinburgh stop there about every 20 minutes. From other directions, change at Edinburgh Waverley or Haymarket stations.

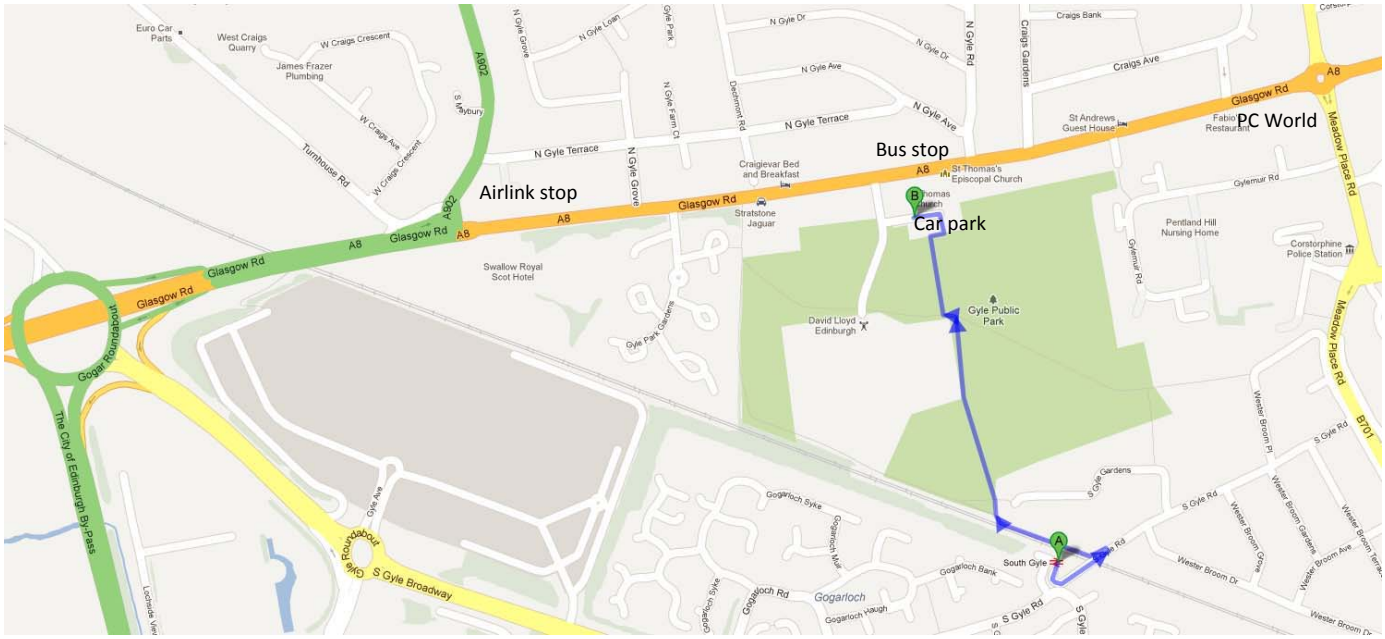
Otherwise, if travelling from the west, alight at Haymarket station and take a bus or taxi to the church. From Waverley station, walk to Princes Street for a bus or take a taxi from the station.

Coach

If travelling from the west, alight in Glasgow Road near the church, shortly after passing Edinburgh by-pass. From St Andrews Square bus station, walk to Princes Street for a bus or take a taxi.

Air

From Edinburgh airport take the Airlink service 100 (single £3.50, return £6, child £2/£3, free to holders of Scottish concession cards). Alight at Maybury. The church is a further 600 metres along Glasgow Road; walk or take a bus to a stop at the church. Both services are about every 10 minutes and the total journey time is about 15 minutes.

Car


There is a free car park behind the church (see map), used also by users of local sports fields. Glasgow Road has free parking bays. If these are full, there is free parking in neighbouring streets.
