

Bath Branch

Christmas Playing Day Saturday December 9th 2017 10 am to 4 pm

United Reform Church, Rush Hill, Bath BA2 2QN

Conductor: Frances Eustace

Frances fell in love with the sound of "original instruments" when her friend and colleague, Jeremy Ward, lent her his baroque bassoon while he was on holiday and so began her distinguished career in the field of early music. Since 1983 she has performed with all the leading orchestras in London and many in Germany, Belgium and Holland. She has been involved in award winning recordings with Tavener Players, The London Classical Players, Gabrieli Players, Ensemble Sonnerie and was a member of The London Oboe Band. She was a member of the Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment from 1989 to 1996 and her solo CD on instruments from 1600 to 1910 (The Finchcocks Collection) is regularly broadcast across the world from the ABC to the BBC. In 2009 she was awarded a MA in Medieval Studies from Bristol University and is now studying for a Doctorate on the topic of 'Secular Medieval Carolling'.

Coffee, tea and cakes will be provided. Please bring your own lunch
