Explore the art of playing Renaissance music written without bar lines. Feel the freedom this brings when playing music not originally constrained by this modern invention! By doing this, you will hear how the phrases are shaped and how they fit together in a way quite unlike music from later periods.

Alyson Lewin BA LGSM PGCE

Alyson read music at Bristol University, specializing in recorder and developing an interest in early music, especially Renaissance reeds. She studied under Peter Holtslag and subsequently gained the LGSM diploma. After initially teaching music in Staffordshire schools, she now works as a freelance teacher and performs as a member of Duo Saltarello. Alyson also tutors on courses for adults, occasionally adjudicates, and enjoys composing and arranging. In 1992 she jointly founded and now runs Hawthorns Music. She is a Musical Advisor of the SRP and Musical Director of South Staffs Branch SRP, and has served on the Conductors' Panel for more years than she cares to remember!

St John's Church Hall is a short walk from Dore train station and is on several bus routes. By road, see map overleaf. There is parking available.
