Playing Day with Philip Thorby Saturday June 20th at 10am

Philip is well known as one of the country's leading performers and teachers in the field of Renaissance and Baroque music. He is founder and Director of the Renaissance ensemble Musica Antiqua of London, which has remained at the forefront of research-based performance of early sixteenth-century music.

As a recorder player, Philip's interests range widely. Two areas of special interest are sixteenth-century divisions (elaborate instrumental works based on vocal originals) and the music of early eighteenth-century London.

In addition to his past work at Trinity College of Music, where he was Professor of Recorder and Senior Fellow in Early Music, he teaches widely in England and abroad.

His students include young professionals, adult amateurs and children (particularly on an ongoing Youth Music project in Israel). He recently has been teaching in Turkey
